Join us to share how we can effectively demonstrate the benefits of parent partner programs through traditional cost-benefit analyses and beyond to ensure we show the broader impact! Parent partner programs create opportunities for meaningful conversations, foster social capital, and provide critical support for families.

During this interactive session, we will offer you and your colleagues a valuable space for candid discussions, allowing you to share successes and challenges relating to your parent partner programs. You will have the opportunity to connect in small breakout groups and talk with others who may be facing similar challenges and share insights on overcoming obstacles.

Key areas to explore include:

- The role of program representatives and partnering entities in building strong collaborations.
- What effective partnerships and social capital look like in practice.
- Who these programs partner with and who provides support.
- Showcasing the journey from case opening to closure and the long-term recovery benefits.

After registering, you will receive a confirmation email containing information about joining the meeting.

We look forward to seeing you at the next PPLC learning collaborative!

Feel free to share with your networks!

Visit the PPLC website.

The PPLC is supported through a collaboration between the Children's Trust Fund Alliance and Casey Family Programs. The purpose of this collaborative is to build connections among administrators and staff of parent partner programs all across the country, share and spread knowledge, leverage existing resources, address common challenges, and highlight lessons learned.
